FORESEE DOOM OF TAFT PROPAGANDA

Stalwarts Fail to Get the Crowd Out to Anti-La Follette Meetings Saturday

NO PROGRESSIVES ATTEND

Situation Everywhere Is the Same as Here, and "Old Guard" Is Down-cast

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 6.—Light attendance on county conventions held stalwart republicans throughout Wisconsin Saturday is said by progressives to be a popular rebuke to the Taft wing of the state party, and to assure certain victory for La Follette and his adherents. The stalwart themselves are disconsolate, and no statement could be secured from any of the leaders bearing on the attendance at the county meetings.

"Conventions" in Offices
The county conventions were held upon orders sent out from the stalwart headquarters in Milwaukee to all county seats to choose delegates to the meeting of the state wing of the party in this city next Wednesday June 8. So small was the convention in many county seats that the meeting was held in individual offices of one of the delegates.

Leaders Disgruntled
The stalwarts find it hard to explain their failure to get out a "fiddlers guard." They are hopelessly saying, however, the fact few came out does not indicate the sentiment against La Follette. Many stalwart war horses and leaders comment on the conventions adversely and say they did not favor holding them in the first place, as they were not timely. These members are going around in the "I-told-you-so" attitude which does not exalt them in the love of their less protected brethren.

Looking forward to the convention to be held here next Wednesday there is little prospect of a creditable number of delegates, and heroic measures will have to be resorted to to bring as many delegates from the country and other state towns to the meeting here as here will be candidates for state office.

Couldn't "Fool" the People
At Racine the La Follette men predominated and promptly adjourned without action the convention which had been called for the purpose of denouncing La Follette and naming delegates to the anti-La Follette "convention" here.

The efforts of the stalwarts to hide the real intent of the many meetings or conventions, and to give out an impression to the public that La Follette and anti-La Follette men alike joined in the conventions, was a dismal failure, for the great bulk of voters were "wise" to the deception, and in few instances did any but foes of La Follette appear.

Thirty-four Not All Stalwarts
HUDSON, Wis., June 6.—The stalwart republicans held at the court house Saturday afternoon a mass meeting, over which Spencer Haven of this city was chairman. Thirteen delegates and a like number of alternates were elected to the state convention called in Milwaukee on June 8.

Resolutions indorsing President Taft were adopted. All told, there were thirty-four persons present at the meeting. La Follette republicans refrained from participating, although many of them were among those present.

Barron's Small Attendance
CUMBERLAND, Wis., June 6.—At the stalwart republican conference held in Barron Saturday the following delegates were named to represent Barron county at the stalwart convention to be held in Milwaukee June 8: J. A. H. Johnson, Tom O. Mason, N. A. Tate, G. H. Ross, K. E. Rasmussen, Sewall A. Peterson, E. Knudson, S. H. Waterman, Henry Radamacher, K. Harvey Erickson, John G. Walter and P. M. Parker.

The meeting was not largely attended.

COUNTRY OVERRUN WITH POOR DOCTORS

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 6.—That the country is overrun with ill-trained doctors and that the graduates of many of the medical schools of the central west are incompetent is the statement set forth by Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, president of the Carnegie Foundation and Abraham Flexner in a report bitterly arraighing these schools which was the sole topic of discussion when the annual convention of the American Medical Association convened here today.

RECORD-HERALD ASKS LORIMER TO RESIGN

CHICAGO, June 6.—The Record-Herald, republican, today editorially calls upon Mr. Lorimer to resign his seat in the United States senate.

KING ENTERTAINS ROOSEVELT
LONDON, June 6.—King George and Queen Mary today entertained Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt at luncheon at Marlborough House.

HIRAM GODDARD DIES SUDDENLY

Pioneer Lumberman Passes Away at His Home of Heart Trouble on Sunday

CAME TO LA CROSSE IN 1857

Built His First Saw Mill in 1874 and Operated It Until a Few Years Ago

In the death of Hiram Goddard, which occurred suddenly Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at his home, Seventh and King streets, La Crosse has lost another one of its pioneer residents. Mr. Goddard had been in poor health for several months, following a fall on a slippery sidewalk on February 1. He was removed to the La Crosse hospital after the accident and later pneumonia developed and for a time his condition was considered to be serious. He rallied, however, and a few weeks ago was able to return to his home and since then he was able to be out and his health appeared to be rapidly improving. Last Thursday he contracted a cold and again he was obliged to take to his bed. Yesterday morning he was able to sit up in his bed and read a newspaper but about 9:30 o'clock he had a sinking spell and shortly before noon he passed away. Heart trouble is said to have been the direct cause of his death.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed but probably the services will be held at the house Thursday afternoon, the hour to be announced later. Rev. Henry Faville will officiate.

Hiram Goddard was born in Worcester county, Massachusetts, March 8, 1836. His father died when Hiram was ten years of age and therefore at an early age he was obliged to work on the farm. In August, 1857, he came to La Crosse and became interested in the lumbering business, which was then at its height along the Mississippi valley. He went into the logging business and in 1874 he built his first saw mill which he operated for many years. The mill was operated under the name of the Hiram Goddard Lumber company of which he was the proprietor and the head.

In addition to his lumbering business he owned a large number of farms in this vicinity to which he devoted his time and attention after the saw mill industry was wound up in this city. Among other farms he owned 400 acres of bottom lands north of the city, where hundreds of tons of hay were cut annually. During the time his mill was in full operation it had a capacity of 12,000,000 feet annually. Most of the lumber cut in the plant was shipped in rafts to points on the lower Mississippi as far south as St. Louis. The logs sawed in the mill were rafted down Black river from the Wisconsin pineries.

Decedent was interested in many local industries and took an interest in the welfare of the city. He was a director of the State Bank of La Crosse and was an active member in the Black River Improvement company up to the time that company went out of business. He was a member and trustee of the First Congregational church.

Decedent was united in marriage in 1868 to Miss Maryett Harlow of Vermont, who, with two children survives him. Roland H. Goddard was in Portland, Ore., at the time of his father's death but is now on his way home. Mrs. Charles Botsford of Houghton, Mich., the only daughter, arrived in the city this morning. Decedent is also survived by four brothers and one sister: L. M. Goddard of this city, Alfred, Albert H. and Jonas and Mrs. Jennie Paige, all residing in the east.

JOHNSON'S MANAGER TO GO TO COURTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 6.—Sports are watching with keen interest the developments that are sure to follow Jack Johnson's action in discharging his white manager, George Little, of Chicago, putting Billy Nolan, formerly Battling Nelson's manager, in charge of his affairs and calling a squad of policemen to keep Little out of the training quarters.

"My contract with Johnson was drawn by one of the best lawyers in the country," said Little. "It provides that I shall receive 25 per cent of all that I shall receive and it is a contract that the courts will uphold. You can bet your last cent I will fight this thing through and if I do not get my 'cut' I will prevent that July 4 fight."

Gillette Won't Interfere
According to a message received here today from Sacramento, Gov. Gillette will take no hand in preventing the fight.

"It does not matter how many petitions are sent to me, I shall do nothing unless I am satisfied there has arisen a condition that calls for interference on the part of the government officially."

Gov. Gillette admitted that he had said the fight was a "frame up" but declared he said it in a casual conversation and had no idea he was to be quoted.

ROOSEVELT FRIEND MAY RULE IN EGYPT

Startling News Today Indicates Guild Hall Speech will Result in the Recall of Gorst

LONDON, June 6.—Following Col. Roosevelt's startling denunciation of the leniency of British rule in Egypt, in his now famous Guild hall speech, with its implied condemnation of the administration of Sir Eldon Gorst, British agent and consul general in Egypt, came another surprising development today in the report that Gorst is shortly to be recalled.

The report is generally accepted and is credited to the agitation arising from Roosevelt's arraignment of England's policy in Egypt. It is said that General Sir Francis Reginald Wingate, sirdar of the Egyptian army, and governor general of the Sudan, is to succeed Gorst.

BIG INTERNATIONAL HORSE SHOW ON

LONDON, June 6.—The international horse show with more than 10,000 entries and $70,000 in prizes, opened at Olympia today. Col. Roosevelt was to have presided at the opening, but on account of the death of King Edward all ceremonial was dispensed with.

As a society function, the show does not promise much, owing to the death of King Edward. The military horsemanship competition for which $25,000 in prizes has been set aside, will be the leading event of the week. Ten nations, represented by 174 of their best riders, will compete in this event, including three Americans.

Americans will make a special effort to win prizes in the competition for carriage horses, coach horses, trotters and hunters.

SOCIALISTS NAME COUNTY TICKET

Complete List of Candidates is Placed in the Field for the Coming Election

For Congress, Seventh District—John Marquet.
For State Senator—Samuel Johnson.
For Assemblyman, First District—Peter Graum.
For Assemblyman, Second District—J. P. Heystek.
For Sheriff—R. C. McCaleb.
For County Clerk—B. N. Anderson.
For Clerk of the Court—Richard Glade.
For Register of Deeds—C. A. Noetzelman.
For County Treasurer—Benjamin Minna.

The above ticket was placed in nomination at the county convention of the Social Democratic party held at the old Y. M. C. A. hall yesterday afternoon, and in order to conform to the rules of the party, each candidate signed and placed in the hands of the central committee, his resignation, to be used by the committee at any time the party majority decides their work is unsatisfactory. This is the recall principle, reserving the right to discharge any incompetent or dishonest official.

The convention was largely attended by socialists from the county and in addition to the nomination of a ticket the state and the international platforms of the party were endorsed but the instructions to candidates were laid over until the next regular meeting for more thorough deliberation.

It is proposed to begin an active campaign and prominent socialists from out of the city will be brought here to deliver addresses during the coming campaign. A large amount of literature will also be distributed among the voters of the county.

KILLED IN COLLAPSE

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 6.—While a gang of men were tearing down a building at Sycamore and Adams streets today, the structure suddenly collapsed, burying a number of the laborers.

Herman Stuart, 27, was instantly killed, and Jos. Weichter, 28, was mortally injured.

CANNON'S JOB IS SAFE FOR PRESENT

Insurgents will Retain Him as a Campaign Issue During Next Fall

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—Speaker Cannon's job is safe for the present.

The insurgent republicans in the house today practically decided that rather than try to butcher Uncle Joe, they will nurse him along as a campaign issue for next fall. They believe there is a possibility that their constituencies may rebel against too much co-operation with the democrats. They also fear that if the speaker's chair is declared vacant at the close of the present session, the cry will be raised that the insurgents merely vented their spite on an old game cock and ousted him because they felt barbs of his pointed epithets, and not in furtherance of a propaganda of rules reform.

The dilemma in which the insurgent representatives from Iowa would be placed in the event of Cannon being ousted, has also figured in the decision of insurgent leaders. Iowa sends a staunch delegation of insurgents to the house. If the speaker's chair were declared vacant, everyone admits that one of the first candidates to be named would be Representative Walter I. Smith, one of the strongest of the republican regulars, who comes from the ninth Iowa district.

In such an event the Iowa insurgents would either have to vote for a man from their own state—even though he be a rock-ribbed "regular"—or face the displeasure of Iowans.

WILL FIGHT NEW HEALTH BUREAU

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—Powerful, organized opposition to the bills now pending before the house committee on interstate commerce for the creation of a department of public health, appeared today. The war against the measure will be directed by the national league for medical freedom, represented by ex-Governor John L. Bates of Massachusetts, and including anti-vivisectionists, anti-vaccinationists, Christian scientists, homeopaths and osteopaths.

RAIL PRESIDENTS MEET PRESIDENT

Intimation Is Abroad They will Not Succeed in Pulling Off the Rate Suits

MARKET GETS THIS AS "TIP"

Several Propositions Are Prepared as Arguments by Rail Interests at White House

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—Arranging their conference with President Taft for three o'clock this afternoon when the stock market will have closed and declining to discuss their plans in details, three railroad presidents arrived here today to protest against the government's injunction suit holding up increased freight rates in the Mississippi river territory.

E. P. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe, was at the head of the delegation, with S. M. Felton, president of the Chicago Great Western, and F. A. Delano, president of the Wabash, as his backers.

Roads' Arguments
It was learned authoritatively that the arguments the railroad magnates will present to President Taft are as follows:

"First, that the increased tariffs to date affect only a minute part of the freight service.

"Second, that there was no agreement of any kind whatsoever between the railroads in the legal sense. All that happened was that one railroad gave notice to others that it would increase rates and if the railroad notified desired to take the same step well and good."

"Third, that the present uncertainty of the situation is disastrous to the credit of the railroads and is undermining the value of securities."

The railroad presidents declare that statistics showing earnings above net expense of maintenance are misleading and that railroads in order to borrow money must put up securities aggregating at least 25 per cent above the amount borrowed. For this reason, they argue, a reserve is necessary to their credit.

Former Senator John C. Spooner, counsel for a number of mid-western railroads, and Walker D. Hines, chief counsel for the Santa Fe were here today in conference with the railroad presidents.

At the White house President Taft spent a large part of the day in preparing for the visit of the railroad men. Senators Crane, Curtis, Depew, Brandegee and Bourne were among the callers who talked over the subject with him.

The general impression seemed to be that there would be no variation from the program of Attorney General Wickersham. After a long talk with the president, Senator Depew, republican, New York, said: "The railroads should have presented their case to the interstate commerce commission and not precipitately announced a great increase in the rates at a time when the country is passing through a period of excitement in railroad matters. If the railroads were confident they had a strong case in relation to the proposed increase, with their wage increases and surface improvements that have been ordered, they could have gone to the commission and avoided the situation. It is probable that when this matter is finally determined, the railroad bill will have become a law and the railroads will then be forced to submit their proposed increases to the commission."

Heavy Pressure on Market
NEW YORK, June 6.—The stock market was under heavy pressure late this afternoon and values crumbled rapidly under enormous offerings of railroad stocks. The market had been featureless in the early dealings.

Fifteen minutes before the market closed support became evident in St. Paul, Union Pacific and Steel with the result that the entire list rallied from 1 to 2 points from the lowest of the day. The market, however, was feverish and unsettled at the end.

WILL NOW FREE MRS. AND DR. DOXEY

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 6.—That Dr. Loren B. Doxey, indicted jointly with his wife, Mrs. Dora E. Doxey, for the murder of Wm. J. Elder will be set free following the acquittal of Mrs. Doxey last week is considered certain today.

ROOSEVELT WILL SPEAK IN TEXAS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 6.—The report that former President Roosevelt would deliver several political speeches in Texas this fall was confirmed here today by Cecil Lyons, chairman of the state republican committee.

DERNBERG RESIGNS

BERLIN, June 6.—The Tageblatt today says that Minister of Colonies Dernberg resigned. There is no official confirmation of the report.

INSURGENTS PLAN RATE BILL COUP

House May Accept Senate Amendments in Order to Prevent Their Defeat

CONFERENCE WOULD KNIFE 'EM

If Insurgents and Democrats Can Agree Bill will Be Accepted as Passed

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—Some of the insurgents today undertook to block the plan of the regulars to "make over" the railroad bill in the conference committee. Senate progressives were busy endeavoring to have the senate bill accepted by the house and the conference committee thereby eliminated.

Several amendments which the senate regulars were forced to accept from the insurgents and several of which the insurgents themselves succeeded in tacking on the measure are marked for elimination in the conference.

The senate insurgents presented their plan to the house insurgents and to Champ Clark, the democratic leader. They argue that the senate bill is a pretty good bill, and that it would be impossible to get one as good from the conference committee. The fate of the plan depends upon the house democrats.

Champ Clark said today that he could not tell what course the minority would take until he conferred with his associates.

CALLS REPUBLICANS FRIENDS OF TRUSTS

NEW YORK, June 6.—Official reply in his capacity as socialist leader of Milwaukee and one of the main stays of the party in this country, will be made tonight by Viktor L. Berger to President Taft's remarks on socialism in his speech Saturday at Jackson, Mich. Berger will speak at a meeting of New York socialists.

"It is a great pleasure," Berger said today, "to have the president say that the socialist problem is the greatest one facing the people of this country. That has been our contention for 25 years. However, I doubt whether the republican party is capable of solving the problem."

"This party is the political organization of organized capital. Every corporation knows that it has a friend in the republican party. Every trust knows that it can trust the republican party."

RECOMMEND THE NEWLANDS BILL

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—A bill by Newlands of Nevada for the appointment of a national conservation commission by the president was recommended today for passage by the senate committee on conservation. There are to be 15 members of the commission, who will serve without salary.

The duties of the commission are to investigate all questions relating to the conservation of the natural resources of the United States, preservation "of its beauty, healthfulness and habitability."

Record-Breaking Sale Now On!

Ostrich Plumes and Willows

During the past few seasons the use of Ostrich Feathers has reached enormous proportions, and it is unquestionable that all records will be broken in the demand for these extremely handsome and economical trimmings during the coming season.

We say "economical" because though they appear to be a luxury, in reality they are the cheapest trimmings one can buy. Good Plumes are always in style. One Plume often forms the entire trimming for a hat, and a Plume worn last season is worn this season, and a Plume worn this season is good for the coming season—it is good until it is worn out—it need never be discarded as long as it holds together. By very nature Plumes are economical, and our prices are bargains of the most pronounced type.

KOHLER'S DOUBLE IS NOW SOUGHT

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 6.—Attorney W. R. Boyd, principal counsel for Police Chief Kohler in his trial before the civil service board on the charge of official and personal misconduct, today began an investigation of visits to the tenderloin and all night grill rooms by a man who masqueraded as Kohler. On apparently good authority Boyd learned this afternoon that the man, a double of the suspended chief, posed as Kohler, and succeeded in deceiving the habitués of the all-night saloons.

The man was formerly at the head of a Cleveland manufacturing concern but of late has been employed as machinery salesman at Toledo. In company with another man he is said to have continued his visits to the Cleveland tenderloin after his removal from the city.

About all a genuine pessimist can see to spring is house cleaning, sassafras tea and the equinoctial storm.

RAILROADS MADE ONLY "BIG BLUFF"

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—Officials of the interstate commerce commission here were disposed to believe that the railroad presidents were "making a bluff" about retrenching expenditures, abandoning projected improvement and laying off employees because of the action of the government in bringing the injunction suits against the increased rates. Practically all of the roads of the country have reported increases in their gross earnings for the present fiscal year, even above the high water mark reached in 1907. That several of the roads report decreases in their net earnings is taken to indicate that much of their revenue has been used in making permanent improvements.

COLLEGE MEN CAN PLAY ON PAID TEAMS

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., June 6.—The faculty committee of the western intercollegiate conference athletic association including Illinois, Purdue, Indiana, Northwestern, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Chicago, in session here decided that students could play baseball on teams having a professional battery if they themselves did not receive pay.

LEVI H. BANCROFT TO BE CHAIRMAN

Richland Center Man to Preside Over Taft Convention on Wednesday

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 6.—Speaker Levi H. Bancroft of Richland Center will be the permanent chairman of the Taft Republican convention, which opens at the Auditorium Wednesday afternoon.

This was decided by the executive committee in charge of arrangements for the convention. Levi H. Bancroft has been in the thick of the fight in Wisconsin for ten years or more. He is a lawyer, 50 years old, and a native of Wisconsin. He has served as district attorney and county judge of Richland county and city attorney of Richland Center. He was assistant attorney general from 1902 to 1904, and on his election to the last assembly was elected speaker. Speaker Bancroft was one of the strong men in the fight for railroad and tax reform laws in Wisconsin.

GOVERNMENT WORK IN FOREST PRODUCTS

MADISON, Wis., June 6.—Chief Forester Henry S. Graves was the principal speaker at the dedication of the new United States Forest Laboratory just opened at the university of Wisconsin Saturday afternoon. He outlined the work to be undertaken in investigating the more effective utilization of forest products as one of the important phases of the great conservation problem.

Praises Pinchot as Great Leader

"The new laboratory is well placed, not only on account of its ready accessibility from all points, but also because of the value to the forest service of the association with the university," said Mr. Graves. "We wish to secure among our workers that spirit of search for the truth which characterizes this great institution of learning. The science of forestry is still in the creative stage. A great deal of the research and of the first work of establishing the practice of forestry must be done by the government. To carry on this work I consider it of the greatest importance that there be no lessening of that spirit of individual initiative, personal responsibility, and expression of honest conviction which has characterized the members of the service under the inspiration of our great leader, Gifford Pinchot."

VAN HISE ARRESTED FOR AUTO SPEEDING

MADISON, Wis., June 6.—President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin, was Saturday arrested on the charge of being automobile scorcher and violating the local speed laws. Chief of Police Shaughnessy by telephone notified Van Hise to be in court in the morning, but the university president insisted that he had not ridden in a machine this week. The policeman, who had a stop watch on Van Hise, is a night man and was asleep in the morning.

When the case was called in the afternoon Janet Van Hise admitted the truth of the charge of over speeding and was fined $10 and costs. She said the machine was not equipped with a speedometer and she did not know how fast she was driving. President Van Hise proved he had not been in the car all week.

KILLS HIMSELF AS POLICEMAN WAITS

BARABOO, Wis., June 6.—Confronted with a warrant for his arrest on a charge of stealing money and jewelry from his cousin Clyde Hill, aged 27, killed himself in his room while an officer waited below for him.

A telegram was received at the local police headquarters from Portland, Ore., asking that Hill be placed under arrest. It was alleged that he had taken $150 and two diamond rings from the home of his cousin while there as a guest.

Hill was found at the home of his widowed mother by Officer Butterfield. When informed of the charge he asked permission to go to his room for his coat and a moment later he shot himself.

THREE INJURED IN AUTO WRECK

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., June 6.—Three men were injured when a big touring car in which they were riding four miles north of this city, skidded and turned turtle. The injured are:

Gilbert McDonough, Eau Claire, president of the McDonough Manufacturing company, hip crushed and internal injuries; serious.

James Allen, Eau Claire; president of the Allen Music company; cut on the head.

Fred Engen, Eau Claire; broken arm and bruises.

MISSOURI TO OUST THE "BEEF TRUST"

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 6.—Suit to oust the beef trust from the state of Missouri will be commenced within the next month, according to a statement made by Attorney General Elliott W. Major here.

Attorney General Major announced that he will begin quo warranto proceedings against the so-called trust, charging it with violation of the anti-trust laws of Missouri.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

HARD FIGHT IN IOWA PRIMARIES

Progressives and Stalwarts Each Confident of Success in Tomorrow's Contest

DES MOINES, Ia., June 6.—Three questions will be settled by the republican voters at the state wide primary tomorrow. First, will Senators Dolliver and Cummins be upheld in their demand, that progressives be elected for congress; second, will Warren Garst, progressive, be nominated against present Gov. B. F. Carroll, stalwart, seeking a second term; and thereby discard a precedent for second terms in Iowa, and third, which faction will control the republican state convention August 6.

Cummins has been stumping the state demanding that only progressives be nominated. He says the reelection of Gov. Carroll would give his standing in Washington a setback. Progressives also argue that if the stalwarts control the delegates to the county conventions to be selected tomorrow they will nominate men to the state convention who will adopt provisions antagonistic to the progressive cause. Both sides are making claims of victory.

Little interest has been shown in the state ticket because there is no real issue on state questions but in several of the congressional districts there are hard fights. Walter I. Smith, stand pat candidate for reelection in the ninth district, is having the fight of his life with Attorney General W. H. Evers. In the seventh district Congressman J. A. T. Hull feels confident of reelection over Judge S. F. Prouty, progressive, who is making his fifth campaign against Hull.

In the eighth district, Hepburn's own district, John Darrach, progressive, is pitted against Judge H. M. Towner.

S. M. Brookhart is the progressive candidate against Congressman Kennedy in the first district.

The democrats have three candidates for governor and it is believed either S. F. Bashor, of Waterloo, or Claude Portier of Centerville will be nominated.

MILL WORKS 33 DAYS ON ONE LOG

PORTLAND, Ore., June 6.—(Special).—Although it sounds like the purest fiction, an Oregon shingle mill has just finished a run of 33 days, working on one giant cedar log. The big stick was 11 feet, 10 inches, in diameter at the base and 60 feet long. As the saws used by the loggers in cutting the logs into "bolts" for the shingle says are only 3 feet long, dynamite was used in splitting the log so it could be sawed into pieces of the necessary size to go to the circular saws.

Not over half a cord of timber was wasted in the work and when it was finished 141,000 shingles had been made from the single stick. The tree grew in the forests of Tillamook county, where there is probably the finest standing timber to be found on the continent. So dense are these forests of fir, spruce and cedar, and so luxuriant their growth that in many places it is almost impossible for a man to force his way through the underbrush that fills the narrow spaces between the trees.

Kitchen Drudgery Made Play

Cleaning the pots and pans and kettles is usually a most disagreeable piece of work, but like everything else there is an easier way to do it, if one knows how. As soon as the food is removed, pour in water and dissolve in it Gold Dust washing powder in the proportion of one tablespoonful to a gallon of water. Leave to soak while washing the dishes, then pour off the water and fill with clean suds made in the same way. If particles of food still adhere to the inside of the utensils, use pot rings for removing them.

WILL TAFT REJECT A "GARFIELD MAN"?

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—The Ballinger-Pinchot controversy produced more trouble for President Taft in the shape of a mix up over the man to be selected as head of the bureau of mines, created in the sundry civil bill. Sixty-two senators signed a petition endorsing John A. Holmes, Secretary Ballinger, Geo. Otis Smith, head of the geological survey; Representative Tawney, the chairman of the house appropriations committee, and Speaker Cannon are against Holmes.

The Holmes adherents claim that the only reason for opposition is that their candidate is a "Garfield man." Holmes has been active in mining work for a number of years, and is chief technologist of the geological survey, which is under Ballinger's direction.

The proposition which confronts the president is whether he shall listen to the wishes of the majority, or turn down Holmes to satisfy Ballinger and other ringsters.

UNION TO LET MINES GO TO RUIN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 6.—Saturday was the time fixed by executive board of the mine workers' union for all engineers and pumpmen, mule feeders and like employees of the mines throughout Illinois to quit work and to permit the properties to fill with water and go to ruin. It is the first time in many years that the union has gone to the extent of calling out the pumpmen and engineers during a strike or suspension.

The operators are denouncing the action of the union, and the pumpmen and engineers are talking of withdrawing from the mine workers' union to reorganize their old union of engineers and pumpmen.

You cannot really love men unless you are making it possible to live with them.

POPE PAYS TRIBUTE TO MR. ROOSEVELT

ROME, June 6. That Pope Pius still entertains the highest regard for Col. Roosevelt, despite the now famous "vatican incident," was shown in his reception of thirty officers and sailors of the United States cruiser New York.

After blessing his visitors, the pope inquired regarding their voyage and expressed the hope that they "would always be inspired by the humanitarian sentiments of that great pacificator, Roosevelt."

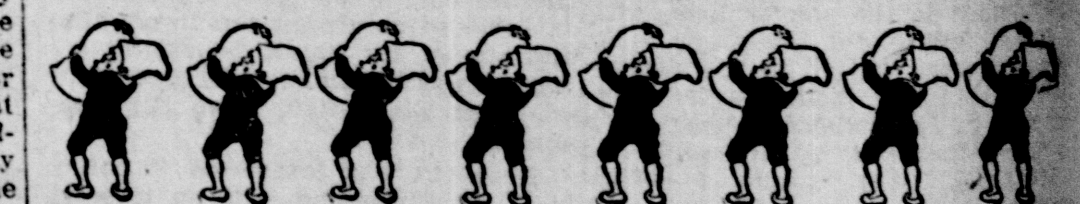

"When so inspired, the pope told them, their presence would always be a guarantee of peace."

CONSERVATION AND STATEHOOD NEXT

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—Conservation will be the next number on the senate program. The measure to be considered is one of nine conservation bills submitted to congress by the president and legalizes the withdrawal of lands by the president. Senator Beveridge (R., Ind.), chairman on the committee on territories, reported a bill for the admission of New Mexico and Arizona to statehood some time ago and planned to have it follow the railroad bill. Beveridge said today, however, conservation would be given precedence.

A HUMILIATING FIASCO

The much talked of "convention,"
or "mass meeting," or "conference"
of La Crosse county "republicans,"
called to "resolute" and to name
delegates to the "Convention," or
"mass meeting," or "conference" of
"republicans" to be held in Milwaukee June 8, has come and gone.
It is to laugh!

However, we prefer to assume to take it seriously, because we do not like to laugh at a small coterie of gentlemen among whom there are delegates for whom, in spite of our disagreement with their politics, we entertain high personal regard. We will not assume to name those upon whom we have conferred our personal approval, because for the most part they are men upon whom
"The Gossiper" palls, and to whom the most refined public commendation would be distasteful. They are men to differ with whom is unpleasant, because they are gentlemen of culture and gentility, though withal human, and our exception to their political views is based upon the belief that personal interest, business association and social environment have obstructed their view as to what is just and right in the administration of the functions of government. Nor can we lose patience with the politically crabbled but personally enjoyable Eugene Perkins, Superintendent (we did not mean to capitalize it) of the S. M. division of the C. M. & St. P. Ry., just because he wanted his name to appear
among the delegates "in that dirty sheet," while the interjection of George H. Gordon that what ailed him more than the "dirty sheet" was
"the pup who runs it," misses

our vitals and lodges convulsively
in our risibilities, for who can suppress a grin at the man who answers the barbed arrow of the Stephenson investigation with empty profanity. On the whole, barring some equally personal delight, there are personal features in this political fight that make us feel like a dentist pulling his friend's tooth.
We would like to give gas—perhaps
"Lem" Cox's speech will suffice.

The Saturday "convention" was an episode not executed as designed. The plan was to lead La Crosse county republicans, under a Taft
flag, into a blind alley that ended,
not in republicanism, but in stalwartism. It was thought that the name of Taft, on a "republican regularity" banner, with the personally popular Capt. Bert C. Smith as official Pied Piper, might be made to induce a lot of progressive La Follette republicans to enter a "convention" styled "republican,"
but anti-La Follette rather than pro-Taft in aim, and it was believed that the wide publication of the names of these progressives, coupled with the names of the stalwart leaders, would circulate through the state the impression that there had been a reuniting of the factions with the constantly victorious "halfbreeds" enrolled under the leadership of the ever defeated "stalwarts."

But the republican voters of La Crosse county could not conceive a republican convention to which Senator Tom Morris was reluctantly invited at the last moment with the stipulation that he keep his mouth shut, and in which J. E. Mc-Connell, Otto Bosshard, James
Thompson, "Ed" Lyons, Valentine
Keppel, Frank Coburn, Andrew
Thompson, C. H. Rawlinson, "Bill" Bradley and others who have for years achieved the victories of the republican party in this community were not participants, and after reading the warning published in The Tribune they made themselves conspicuous by their absence. The chairman sent out to republicans, mostly La Follette men, 500 personal invitations, and the answer was a humiliating rebuke to the deception sought to be practiced. Only fifty appeared as delegates, and of the fifty not more than two
can prove an alibi to the charge
that they have never supported La Follette but have always been stalwarts. The ruse failed, the Taft decoy duck was recognized as a counterfeit. La Crosse county republicans accepted the convention for what it was—an organization by whose instrumentality it was planned to deceive the voters.

Nor was the conduct of the "convention" more convincing than had been its advertisement. From the first word spoken by Chairman
Smith to the last word of the last speaker, there was nothing but enmity to Senator Robert M. La Follette. It was the unveiling of monumental abuse of "Bob," and the notable deviation came when John M. Holley paused to beg his hearers, if they felt that President Taft had made mistakes (which he did not believe,) to forget it. Recently Emanuel Philipp, generalissimo of the propaganda, said that the Milwaukee convention had no purpose
to endorse Aldrich and Cannon, but
L. B. Cox awakened the La Crosse
"convention" with the dedication of these worthies. Of Philipp and Cox, the latter was the more frank,
the former the more polite. It would not be accurate to say that "the cat
is out of the bag," for this stalwart cat never enjoyed the seclusion of a bag.

But foiled in their attempt to entice enough unwary progressives into their stalwart "convention" to take the curse off, the convention proceeded to the most daring subterfuge of all. They named as delegates to the Milwaukee convention,
among others, a number of progressive republicans who were not at the "convention," and whose names
do not appear upon the list of their so-called "republican club." They must have known that these men would not go as "delegates" to a stalwart "convention." They should have known that some of them
would publicly denounce the "convention" for putting them in a false position. Can it be that they deliberately caused the publication of the names of these progressives,
for the effect it would create, knowing that they would resent the thing
and repudiate the "convention"?
It listens like it.

A feature of the "convention"
which presents an embarrassing topic for discussion is the speeches.
You know how sorry you have felt for the lady who tries to sing and doesn't know she can't sing! The burden of burdens in these talks
was that these gentlemen were impelled to action to "save the republican party from defeat," a thing
which could only be accomplished
by taking the leadership away from La Follette. When, during the official incumbency of La Follette, has

the republican party in Wisconsin,
or in the nation, suffered defeat?
From what do they mean to rescue
the party that, under his leadership, has rolled up majorities nearly double the majorities it polled
prior to his leadership?

And when Capt. Smith declared
La Follette had made it impossible
for a poor man to run for office,
and there must be relief from the situation, one hastily reviewed the list of millionaires in office—Morris, McConnell, Capt. Cronon, George Wright, Ori Sorensen—and who could refrain from pity of the poverty harassed delegates present,
barred from office by the La Follette
laws that won't let the poor man
run. Heaven hasten the day when these needy gentlemen—Smith, Holley, Burton, Hirschheimer, Copeland, Ferris, Osborne, Holway—may be permitted to seek public office under conditions consistent with their modest finances. In all that "mass meeting" there was but one man immune from the restrictions that,
under the La Follette laws, shut
the door of political opportunity upon the fellow of little means. We refer to that distinguished citizen
and political associate of the foregoing named gentlemen—George McConnell.

Now a word as to the personnel of the "convention," as to how fully it was representative of the special interests and how little of the county precincts.

To begin with, the following precincts in La Crosse county, outside the city of La Crosse, were NOT represented: Burns, Barre, Campbell, Washington, Greenfield, Shelby, Holland, Farmington.

The following wards in the city of La Crosse were NOT represented:

2nd ward
3rd " 8th " 11th " 12th " 15th " 17th " 19th " 20th " 21st "

Of the total of forty-five delegates
FROM THE CITY, four wards furnished 37, eleven more than a majority of the entire convention, as follows:

4th ward	9
6th ward	9
14th ward	15
16th ward	9

TOTAL 37

The remaining eight were distributed as follows: 1st ward 2, 5th ward 1, 7th ward 1, 9th ward 1,
10th 1, 13th ward 1, 18th ward 1.

Now, something of the men who participated, and a few guesses as to why they participated:

The State Bank of La Crosse was ably represented by John M. Holley,
John M. Holley, Jr., Horace K.
Holley, A. H. Holley, Paul T.
Schultz and George H. Ray, this enterprising institution having distinguished itself by sending six delegates out of the total of fifty present,
thus monopolizing nearly one-eighth
of the convention.

President W. J. Ferris and Col.
Orlando Holway, of the La Crosse
Water Power company, may have become delegates because they prefer the Ballinger scheme of "conservation of water powers" to the Pinchot
method.

C. S. Van Auken, D. G. Whyte and
F. H. Scofield, insurance men, may be antagonistic to the Ekern brand
of insurance regulation.

George H. Gordon may have attended because he is attorney for the Water Power company or for the Northwestern railroad, or because he is United States district attorney by grace of "Ike" Stephenson, or because he has heard rumors from Chicago that another bar is menaced
by a bung starter.

It may not be unfair to presume that the La Crosse City Railway company was ably represented by James B. Taylor and "Doc" Maine (Cargill Co.) and F. P. Hixon, while the C. M. and St. P. Ry. company probably did not "dock" the wages of E. G. Perkins for absence from his office to attend the "convention."

We do not believe there is need for further explanation of the presence of George McConnell than may be found in his profound respect for the Bible mandate not to let his left hand know what his right hand
does, nor can we doubt that "Dan" Norton and "Bill" Luth were inspired to attend by a thrifty patriotism.
Then there are "Len" Lottridge, whom we love as a baseball fan and
like as an interesting old gentleman,
and three elderly gentlemen he brought with him as his contribution to the "cause." Not a single sinister motive impelled them, we believe,
and we are willing to count the four votes they control among those who are going down to glorious defeat,
without protest or criticism.

But what's the use! The list of "delegates" published in The Tribune tells the story, and enough is plenty. The simple fact is the proposition with which we started. It was a stalwart fancy dress ball with Miss Eleventh Story League appearing in a décolleté gown that showed her charms to positive advantage and certain identification. The only misgiving we have about the program

so "auspiciously" opened is that its presentation may involve financial embarrassment, although the number of participants who, in politics,
think that "it is better to give
than to receive," is not incommensurate with the number who hope to "receive."

From all over the state come stories of other "conspicuous successes"
on a par with the painful farce held in this city. In Racine county the "mass meeting" adjourned without electing any delegates. Almost without exception the La Follette republicans could have packed the "conventions" upon an hour's notice, and turned them into La Follette endorsements, a thing fears for which threw them into a near-panic here.
But the La Follette men preferred
to permit them to show themselves
as stalwarts in stalwart "conventions," and the expose is complete and state-wide.

The folly of the thing is so apparent as to suggest that, after all, the substitution of Emanuel Philipp for W. D. Connor, as leader of the "regularity" movement, was a gross blunder. Connor's idea of "lying low"
and electing stalwart or democratic legislators in a "gun shoe" campaign, to repudiate the primary and beat La Follette in the legislature, was possible. The bolder Philipp scheme, with its transparent masque-rade lacks logic to justify its daring.
It is foredoomed to ignominious defeat.

Quips and Cranks
and Wanton Wiles

Off in the Stilly Night
(With apologies to Moore.)
Off in the stilly night,
Ere slumber's chain has bound
me,

Loud yawning brings the light
Of cats a-fightin' round me;
The growls, the spits
Of feline fits,
The phrases I then mutter,
The shoes that sail
Tell many a tale;
The fight ends with a flutter.
Thus, in the stilly night,
Ere slumber's chain has bound
me,

Loud yawning brings the light
Of cats a-fightin' round me.

When I remember all
The cats, so grouped together,
I've seen around me fall
Like leaves in wintry weather,
I feel like one
Who treads alone
Some prison cell deserted,
Whose guards are fled,
Whose jailer dead,
And all but me departed.
Off in the stilly night,
Ere slumber's chain has bound
me,

Loud yawning brings the light
Of cats a-fightin' round me

A Low Necked Dress Story
Sheridan Ploughe of Hutchinson
recently returned from a trip to Panama, taken to see how Uncle Sam is building the big ditch. He stopped at New Orleans to have a look at the Mardi Gras.

They have two institutions in New Orleans that seem to be to the manner born," said Ploughe, the other day. "They think they have a monopoly on these. One is the French opera and the other is the Mardi Gras. They say that the opera is the leading feature of their social life. For over ninety years they have had this kind of music
and I rather think now it is honored more for its age than for anything else. Some of our party went to the opera. Some stayed at home.
Those who went congratulated those who stayed. When the opera had its highest run it was about all there was to New Orleans society.
Not to be a subscriber, or at least not to be a regular attendant was tantamount to being ignored by society, and to being looked upon as a person lacking in taste. It was a swell affair on each Tuesday and Saturday night—full dress, head waiter clothes and white gloves for the men and for the women all that
New Orleans society would stand for.
The display of undress was positively startling to a stranger. All of which reminds me of Jerry Simpson.
He attended a swell social function
in Washington, and his wife, who had not attended, asked Jerry when he got home how the women were dressed. The quick-witted Jerry replied: 'Well, my dear, I cannot tell you. I did not look under the table.' —Kansas City Journal.

pyramids of Egypt or the pagodas of China?"

"Ih, I don't know. They both made good backgrounds for photographs of our party."—Louisville

Goose Girl

A tankard, rapping a table nearby, called Gretchen to her duties.
There was something reluctant in her step, in the good-by glance, in the sudden fall of the smiling lips.

"She will make some man a good wife," said Carmichael.
The vintner scowled at his tankard.

"He is not sure of her," thought Carmichael. Aloud he said: "What a funny world it is!"

"How?"

"Gretchen is beautiful enough to be a queen, and yet she is merely a Hebe in a tavern."

"Hebe?" suspiciously. The peasant is always suspicious of anything he doesn't understand.

"Hebe was a cup-bearer to the mythological gods in olden times," Carmichael explained. He had set a trap, but the vintner had not fallen into it.

"A fairy-story." The vintner nodded; he understood now.

Carmichael's glance once more rested on the vintner's hand. He would lay another trap.

"What happened to her?"

"Oh," said Carmichael, "she spilled wine on a god one day, and they banished her."

"It must have been a rare vintage."

"I suppose you are familiar with all valleys. Moselle."

"Yes. That is a fine country."
The old man in tatters sat erect
in his chair, but he did not turn his head.

"You have served?"

"A little. If I could be an officer
I should like the army." The vintner reached for his pipe which lay on the table.

"Try this," urged Carmichael, offering his pouch.

"This will be good tobacco, I know." The vintner filled his pipe.

Carmichael followed this gift with many questions about vines and vintages; and hidden in these questions were a dozen clever traps. But the other walked over them, un-hesitant, with a certainty of step which chagrined the trapper.

By and by the vintner rose and bade his table-companion a good night. He had not offered to buy anything, another sign puzzling to Carmichael. This frugality was purely of the thrifty peasant. But the vintner was not ungrateful, and he expressed many thanks. On his way to the door he stopped, whispered into Gretchen's ear, and passed out into the black street.

"Either he is a fine actor, or he is really what he says he is," Carmichael was dissatisfied. "I'll stake
my chances on being president of the United States, which is safe enough
as a wager, that this fellow is not genuine. I'll watch him. I've stumbled upon a pretty romance of some sort, but I fear that it is one-sided. He wrinkled his forehead, but that part of his recollection as aimed to stir remained fallow, in darkness.

The press in the room was thinning. There were vacant chairs here and there now. A carter sauntered past and sat down unconcernedly at the table occupied by the old man whose face Carmichael had not yet seen. The two exchanged not even so much as a casual nod. A little later a butcher approached the same table and seated himself after the manner of the carter. It was only when the dusty baker came along
and repeated this procedure, preserving the same silence, that Carmichael's curiosity was enlivened. This curiosity, however, was only of the evanescent order. Undoubtedly they were socialists and this was a little conclave, and the peculiar manner of their meeting, the silence and mystery, were purely fictional. Socialism at that time revolved around the blowing up of kings, of demolishing established order. Neither kings were blown up nor order demolished, but it was a congenial topic over which to while away an evening. This was in the German states; in Russia it was a different matter.

Had Carmichael not fallen a-dreaming over his pipe he would have seen the old man pass three slips across the table; he would have seen the carter, the butcher, and the baker pocket these slips stolid-ly; he would have seen the mountaineer wave his hand sharply and the trio rise and disperse. And perhaps it would have been well for him to have noted these singular manifestations of conspiracy, since shortly he was to become somewhat involved. It was growing late; so Carmichael left the Black Eagle, nursing the sunken ember in his pipe and surrendering no part of his dream.

Immediately the mountaineer paid
his score and started for the stairs
which led to the bedrooms above.
But he stopped at the bar. A very hot cabbage soup. It was the ancient clock-mender across the way.
The mountaineer was startled out of his habitual reserve, but he recovered his composure almost instantly. The clock-mender, his heavy glasses hanging crookedly on his nose, his whole aspect that of a weary, broken man, took down his pail and shuffled noiselessly out.
The mountaineer followed him cautiously. Once in his shop the clock-mender poured the steaming soup
into a bowl, broke bread in it, and began his evening meal. The other,
his face pressed against the dim
pane, stared and stared.

"Gott in Himmel! It is he!" he breathed, then stepped back into

CHAPTER V.
A Compatriot.

Krumerweg was indeed a crooked
way. It formed a dozen elbows and ragged half-circles as it slunk off from the Adlergasse. Streets have character even as humans, and the Krumerweg reminded one of a person who was afraid of being followed. The shadow of the towering bergs lay upon it, and the few stars
that peered down through the narrow crevice of rambling gables
were small, as if the brilliant planets had neither time nor inclination to watch over such a place. And yet there lived in the Krumerweg many a kind and loyal heart, stricken with poverty. In old times the street had had an evil name, now it possessed only a pitiful one.

It was half after nine when Gretchen and the vintner picked
their way over cobbles pitted here and there with mud-holes. They were arm in arm, and they laughed
when they stumbled, laughed lightly, as youth always laughs when in love.

"Only a little farther," said Gretchen, for the vintner had never before passed over this way.

"Long as it is and crooked, Heaven knows it is short enough!" He encircled her with his arms and kissed her. "I love you! I love you!" he said.

Gretchen was penetrated with rapture, for her ears, sharp with love and the eternal doubting of man, knew that falsehood could not lurk in such music. This handsome boy loved her. Buffeted as she had been, she could separate the false
from the true. Come never so deep a sorrow, there would always be this
—he loved her. Her bosom swelled, her heart throbbled, and she breathed in ecstasy the sweet chill air that rushed through the broken street.

"After the vintage," she said,
giving his arm a pressure. For this handsome fellow was to be her husband when the vines were pruned
and freshened against the coming winter.

"Aye, after the vintage," he echoed; but there was tragedy in his heart as deep and profound as his love.

"My grandmother—I call her
that for I haven't any grandmother
—is old and seldom leaves the house. I promised that after work tonight I'd bring my man home
and let her see how handsome he is.
She is always saying that we need a man about; and yet, I can do a man's work as well as the next one.
I love you, too, Leo!" She pulled his hand to her lips and quickly
kissed it, frightened but unabashed.

RUBBER MILLS BEAT THE MAJESTIC TEAM

The La Crosse Rubber Mills baseball team defeated the Majestics, 9 to 1, yesterday.

W. Blank struck out 16 men while Walters for the Majestics struck out 8. The features of the game were a three-bagger by Kelly, a sensational one hand stab of a high ball by Kveny and a grand stop by Al Olson of a hot grounder. Blank was in good form and had the Majestics at his mercy at all stages of the game.

This makes 9 out of 11 games that the Rubber Mills have won.

WOODMEN ASK FOR AUTOS IN PARADE

Committee Seeks to Have Local Owners Contribute Their Cars Next Thursday

Committee on arrangements for the Woodmen's picnic next Thursday want auto owners of La Crosse to contribute their cars toward helping to make successful the parade Thursday morning. Judge L. Kleber, member of the committee asks that auto owners who are willing to help make the parade a success by contributing the use of their machines for an hour communicate with Frank Sisson, B. C. Smith or C. A. Hunt. The parade is expected to start at about 10:30.

The committee has also asked members of the La Crosse Motorboat club to give a parade on the river during the afternoon. If the parade is held it probably will not be given until after supper, perhaps at 7 p. m., owing to the difficulty in getting members of the club together earlier. This will be decided definitely later. About twenty-five club members expressed willingness to participate, when the matter was brought up at the outing of the motorboatists Sunday.

A final meeting of the arrangements committee will be held this evening at which final details of the Woodmen picnic will be arranged.

OREGON TO VOTE ON PROHIBITION

PORTLAND, Ore., June 6.—(Special.)—Oregon will vote on statewide prohibition in November and the campaign of the wets and dries is now rounding into form. A peculiar condition exists here because of the fact that Oregon is the first state of the union in hop production. The growers are perturbed about the future of their hop crops if they encourage the prohibition wave.

To allay these fears, the prohibition workers are laboring with hop farmers to convince them there are other equally profitable crops they can raise. Just what success this argument will have is not yet known.

The ruling prices for the coming crop will probably have a great deal to do with the attitude of the hop growers on the prohibition question. Just now they are fearful that with the threatened decrease in beer consumption will come a lessened demand for their hops.

ROB POSTOFFICE AT MERRILLAN

One Man Shot and Captured and Warrants Are Issued for Five Others

United States Court Commissioner Alfred Harrison was called to his office yesterday to issue warrants for five men, suspected of looting the postoffice at Merrillan. In a desperate battle between the five men and a posse headed by Sheriff Lansing of Jackson county, one of the men was shot and captured. The other four made their escape. The country is being scourged by heavily armed deputies and the capture of the men is expected at any moment.

Early Sunday the postoffice safe was blown open and $1,000 in currency and $500 in stamps were stolen. The sheriff was notified an hour later, and after hastily swearing in a number of deputies, he located five suspects in a house on an Elroy train.

The car in which the men took refuge had been locked by the car conductor, but they sawed their way out and took to their heels.

About three miles below Black River Falls the posse caught up with the men and opened fire on them. One of the supposed robbers fell wounded. He was captured and a sack containing the stolen stamps which he was carrying was recovered.

The identity of the men sought is unknown.

E. Calkins. While there he was assistant cashier. A little more than a year ago, the bank sold out and since that time Myron has been in the west and has traveled a good deal without settling in any business.

MOTORBOAT PICNIC SPLENDID SUCCESS

Twenty-eight Boats and More than 125 Members and Friends Are in Line

Comets Defeated by Aviators in Baseball Game, and Typical Neukomm Dinner Is Served

So successful was the first annual outing of the La Crosse Motorboat club at Eagle Bluff yesterday, that before the day was over it had been unanimously decided to hold another outing during the month of July, to which the ladies will be invited. Yesterday's outing was a stag affair and this fact, together with a threatening appearance of the weather is believed to have lessened the expected number of boats when the start was made from the levee at about 10 o'clock.

Officers of the club assembled at the Singer dock, and as each boat arrived it was given its parade number. The start was delayed somewhat to await the arrival of the excursion steamer W. W. Commodore John C. Toeller's boat, the "Swastica," then gave the signal and started out to round the bridge and come up past the levee, followed by Vice Commodore O. J. Munz's boat "Minoru" and the others, according to number. The "Swastica," "Minoru" and a number of the other boats were decorated with flags and bunting, and nearly all of the participating launches carried ensigns and club pennants. Officers' boats carried the officers' flags recently given to the club by Rear Commodore E. J. Bjorkman.

Soon after 10 o'clock the procession was under way, and when Commodore Toeller's "Swastica," the flagship, was under the Milwaukee road's drawbridge, the last of the line was still under the wagon bridge. The distance between the bridges is 2.1 miles. The fast "Moose," owned by A. S. Gilbertson, was dispatched boat of the day and sped up and down along the line upon its various missions with the fleetness of a gull.

A Striking Spectacle
Arriving at Eagle Bluff the many launches in the line, run in side by side along the closing dam in front of the bluff. This created a most picturesque and probably was the largest gathering of motorboats ever assembled at one time. Several pictures were taken by photographers accompanying the boat owners of the fleet as it appeared here.

Early Lunch Is Served
Upon arrival at Eagle Bluff the picnicers were served with an early lunch of sandwiches and refreshments by Chef John Neukomm, and the next hour, prior to the serving of the splendid big dinner was devoted to sight seeing, impromptu ball games and other amusements about the beautiful grounds. There were after which he expects to spend three weeks in a trip through the Pacific coast country on business.

WOODMEN DECORATE MEMBERS' GRAVES

The annual memorial exercises of the Modern Woodmen of America, were held yesterday afternoon, when the graves of all dead members of the order in the local cemeteries were decorated. A large number of Woodmen took part in the exercises.

HUNTER NAMED BY SOCIALISTS

Settlement Worker Says He will Break Control of Roads in Connecticut

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 6.—With a society man as their candidate for governor and the New Haven railroad system as the dominant issue of the campaign the Connecticut socialists expect to demonstrate at the coming election that they are a real factor in politics in the nutmeg state. Robert Hunter, of Noroton, who married into the Stokes family and thus became one of the leaders among the "parlor socialists," is the candidate for governor. He declared today that the party will bring into the state orators of national reputation to help the fight and that already he had assurances of support which would "make the dead leaves tumble from their limbs."

"Connecticut," said Hunter, "is filled with political corruption. Therefore elements in the two dominant parties are denouncing the rank monopoly of the New Haven road which is admittedly an octopus with its fingers about the throat of New England commerce," and they are just beginning to realize that the railroad will control the party conventions and nominate the tickets.

"Because of the fact the socialists are sure to make phenomenal gains at the coming election. The socialists are the real insurgents and the people will realize that before we get through. The New Haven road has ruled long enough and only through socialistic successes can its grip on New England commerce be broken."

"It is not a far cry from a city to a state and the successes in Milwaukee will be duplicated in many states within the next few years. Inasmuch as it is plain that the people want a change we intend to offer them the right change and so get their votes."

Among the speakers in the socialists' campaign will be Eugene V. Debs, Mayor Seidel, of Milwaukee; John Spargo of New York, Victor Berger of Wisconsin, and James F. Carey of Massachusetts.

FRAUD CHARGED BY DALZELL'S OPPONENT

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 6.—That a recount of the primary vote will be demanded by Dr. Robt. J. Black, who alleges that he won in his race for the congressional nomination over John Dalzell, chairman of the house rules committee, was the statement here today by him.

According to Dalzell's manager, W. H. Coleman, Dalzell won by a majority of 405.

Charges of fraud are being made by Black. He declares that his brother-in-law saw an election judge count five ballots for Dalzell that had been cast for himself. Dalzell's fight is the closest in his 22 years of service in congress.

Dalzell's fight to maintain his position was desperate and his managers threw down the senatorial and legislative slates of the republican organization for the sake of their candidate. Corporations of the 30th congressional district are alleged to have issued orders to its employees, to oppose Black.

INVITE LOCAL OFFICIALS

President Cramer of the Red Wing club in the Minny league today issued an invitation to the officers of the local organization and President J. A. Elliott to be his guests at the present series at Red Wing but, Rooney is now at Red Wing but it is doubtful if any of the other officers will be there.

FIREMEN ARE HURT.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Caught by a back draught in a fire in a bonded warehouse in Washington street today, two firemen were killed and three so badly hurt that they may die. Twenty-two other firemen were more or less seriously hurt.

SUCCEEDS CONNORS AS STATE CHAIRMAN

John A. Dix of Washington County, New York.

NEW YORK.—The retirement of William J. "Fingy" Connors from the chairmanship of the State Democratic committee took place with harmony prevailing in the Democratic camp. John A. Dix, a close friend of Connors, was unanimously elected to the office. Arthur A. McLeon of Newburg was re-elected treasurer of the committee.

TOM PREPARED WRONG SPEECH

But Resourceful Senator
was on the Job for the Woodmen in
No Time

Someone at Onalaska called Senator Thomas Morris on the telephone.

"We're going to have our Memorial services Sunday, Tom, and we'd like to have you give us a talk."

"Sure," said Tom.
So Senator Morris looked up a lot of historical data and facts from which was woven an excellent Memorial Day speech, replete with tributes to the glorious accomplishments of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Then Tom took the car for Onalaska. The committee met him, and on the way to the hall Tom asked one of the members:

"How is it you hold your Memorial services so late up here?"

"Oh, we hold them the same every year," said the committeeman.

That seemed fair enough, but Senator Morris has a real bump of curiosity, so he asked:

"But isn't it a bit unusual, when all other cities hold their Memorial services May 30th?"

"Well, well," said the committeeman, "The Woodmen all hold their memorials June 5th."

As it dawned upon the senator he explained in an undertone he had labored under a misapprehension and had prepared a G. A. R. speech, thinking the memorial services belated Memorial Day observance.

"Give me fifteen minutes," said the senator, "and I will be there with the right sort of a talk." So Tom sought the seclusion of the basement where the Woodmen speech was hurriedly mapped out. Emerging he informed the committeeman he was ready.

"All right," said the Onalaskan, "I told them of your mistake and they are waiting for you."

Tom did not censure the committeeman for failure to keep his own counsel, but mounted the rostrum and delivered a Woodmen Memorial speech which his friends say was one of the best speeches he has ever delivered.

SAYS CIGARETTES COST CHAMPIONSHIP

BELOIT, Wis., June 6.—Dean Geo. L. Collier bitterly flayed cigarettes and kindred evils today in a farewell address as having caused the loss of the state college football championship. He leaves for a year's tour of Africa for geological research.

THREE MURDERED; SON IS ARRESTED

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa, June 6.—Roy Hardy, 21, was arrested here today to be held until an investigation can be made into the deaths of his father, James Hardy, his mother, and brother Earl, all three of whom were found dead in their home at Laurel. The bodies were found piled in a heap in the front part of the house, the skull of each having been crushed.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR ARMY NURSE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 6.—Arrangements were completed today for the funeral of Mrs. Lovina Straight, old army nurse, aged 89, widely known as "Mother" to the Fifty-first Indiana regiment veterans of the civil war, whose death here yesterday ended a remarkable career.

She will be buried Wednesday with military honors.

EHRlich FINED IN BRINDLEY'S COURT

M. Ehrlich, who was arrested on the charge of having game fish under the required size, was found guilty in Judge Brindley's court this afternoon and fined $25 and costs. Attorney W. F. Wolfe appealed the case to the circuit court.

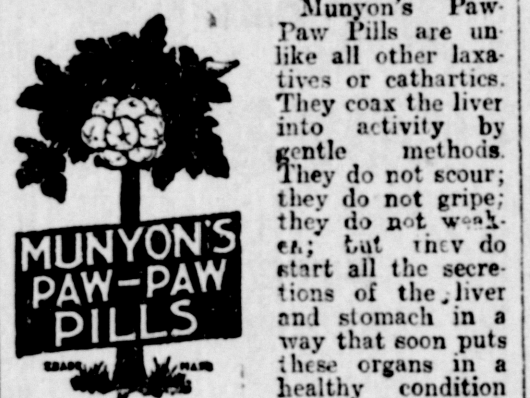

Many a man realizes after it is late that his mascot was a hoodoo.

HOW IS THE WATCH? KEEPING TIME TO THE DOT?

If it is not, there is something wrong with it. Better bring it in and have our watchmaker look it over. Maybe a small adjustment is all it needs; but, whatever is wrong, we make it right.

CONSTIPATION MUNYON'S PAW-PAW PILLS

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are unlike all other laxatives or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods. They do not scour; they do not grip; they do not weaken; they do not startle the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation. In my opinion constipation is responsible for most ailments. There are thirty-two feet of human bowels, which is really a sewer pipe. When this pipe becomes clogged, the whole system becomes poisoned, causing biliousness, indigestion and impure blood, which often produces rheumatism and kidney ailments. No woman who suffers with constipation or any liver complaint can expect to have a clear complexion, or enjoy good health.

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weakening; they enrich the blood instead of impoverishing it; they enable the stomach to get the nourishment from food that is put into it.

These pills contain no calomel, no dope, they are soothing, healing and stimulating. They soothe the bowels to act without physic. Price 25 cents.

CONTINUE FIGHT TO FREE BROWNE

Judge Will Not Render Decision on Arguments Today, so Bribery Trial Waits

CHICAGO, June 6.—The attorneys for Lee O'Neill Browne, democratic leader of the Illinois General Assembly, today resumed their fight to prevent the trial of Browne in Cook county on a charge of bribing Representative White to vote for Lorimer for United States senate.

Haney's arguments were characterized by bitter attacks upon States Attorney Wayman and the newspapers who have attacked Browne, and who have made editorial accounts on the bribe revelations.

In reply Judge Scanlon said: "Mr. Haney, if you are making a speech to stiffen up my back it is unnecessary. I'm not to be coerced by the clamor of newspaper articles. When that becomes the case I'll resign."

When Haney finished his argument States Attorney Wayman replied and it is now expected that the judge will not render his decision for two or three days on account of the cases cited by the defense, thus delaying the bribery trial today.

States Attorney Burke of Sangamon county expects today to complete his investigation into the corrupt use of money to defeat the fish bill in the last general assembly.

PASTORS HOLD LAST MEETING

Adjourn Until October 3; Invite American Sunday School Convention in September

The Pastors' union held its last meeting this morning, adjourning until October 3.

At the morning session they extended an invitation to the American Sunday School union to hold its bi-state convention here in the month of September. This includes the states of Wisconsin and Minnesota and as the union has expressed a desire to meet here, the convention is now assured. Rev. Panzlau was instructed to deliver the address of welcome to the delegates.

It was decided to hold the annual Pastors' union outing and a committee of five was appointed to make arrangements as follows: Rev. J. E. Ayres, Cunningham, I. V. Ingham, Berger and J. S. Lowe. The day on which the outing will be held has not been decided.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Sold by all druggists, 75c.

LISTMAN MILL IS AGAIN RUNNING

All Outside Men Are Employed, Not an Old Man
Returning to Work
Today

The Listman Mill is again running, the company starting one of its mills this morning, with a crew of new men, many coming from outside of the city. Manager Heath said this afternoon that three conferences have been held with the committee of strikers, the last one Saturday afternoon, when announcement was made that the majority of the men were willing to return to work and accept the proposition of the company while a small portion of the men did not feel disposed to accept the terms offered them. Consequently none of the men returned to work this morning.

Mr. Heath says only one mill is running at present but the other one will be started in a short time. Old men will be taken back where positions are open. He said the new men are taking hold of the work and everything was running satisfactorily today.

A. M. IVEY HEADS EPWORTH LEAGUE

The convention of the Epworth league which has been in session in this city for three days, closed yesterday evening with a stirring address by Dr. J. G. Vaughan, Ph. D., D. D., of Lawrence college at Appleton, Wis., on the subject, "The Life That is Worth While." It was an interesting talk and those who heard it felt that they were repaid for coming.

At the business session of the convention Saturday afternoon the following cabinet was elected:

President—A. M. Ivey, La Crosse.
First vice president—Miss Bessie Cutting, La Crosse.

Second vice president—Miss Iva Mathews, Ironton.
Third vice president—Miss Florence Merrill, Onalaska.

Secretary and treasurer—Miss Lilias Haskell, Tomah.
Junior league superintendent—Miss Grace Harris, Onalaska.

The La Crosse district of the league has assumed the duty of raising $100 for a room in the Asbury hospital at Minneapolis. Means to secure the money were discussed at this meeting.

SWIMMING STARTS; 210 BOYS AT "Y"

The swimming lessons which are being given by the Y. M. C. A. started this morning, instructor George Corsan giving about 210 boys the preliminary arm stroke for the "crawl" stroke style of swimming. The boys were from the Washington, Washburn, Longfellow, Lincoln and Hogan schools. The water wings were used in the lessons, supporting the feet of the swimmers while they learned the arm movement. All of the boys will receive another lesson in which the stroke for the feet will be learned. As many as 25 boys were accommodated in the plunge at one time.

FOREIGNERS IN CHINA ARE WARNED

PEKIN, June 6.—The foreign legations today notified the foreign residents of Nanking and other towns where uprisings are threatened, not to relax their vigilance as a result of the failure of the outbreak in Nanking to materialize yesterday. It is believed here that yesterday's peacefulness was for the purpose of throwing the foreigners off their guard.

ROADS MUST GET THE WAGE MONEY

NEW YORK, June 6.—The eastern railroad systems are willing to have the interstate commerce commission pass upon the fairness of their proposed increase in freight rates, according to President Wm. C. Brown of the New York Central. The Central, Brown said today, wants the rate question cleared up at once. Because of the wage advances, he declared that the payrolls have been increased approximately $690,000 a month and the company must get this money in the form of revenues from "readjusted freight rates."

IMMENSE CROWD ATTENDS PICNIC

The brewers and bottlers held a large picnic at the Centennial garden yesterday afternoon, followed by a ball in the hall in the evening. During the afternoon the garden was packed with visitors and all sorts of amusements were in evidence. Music was furnished by a brass band and the event was a success in every respect.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME OF FARMER

Residence of August Steindorf on Brownsville Road Burns to the Ground

The farmhouse of August Steindorf, a well known farmer residing on the road leading to Brownsville, Minn., was burned to the ground on Saturday evening. Mr. Steindorf, his wife and child, were in this city Saturday, returning home in the afternoon. In the evening Mr. Steindorf went to Hokah to attend a lodge meeting and during his absence the house was destroyed. His wife had gone to the barn to do some chores and when she started back she found the house in flames. The building, together with the contents, were destroyed. The origin of the fire is unknown.

DOUBT IF PITTMAN WAS MADE CAPTIVE

NEW ORLEANS, La., June 6.—Cables received here today from Port Limon express considerable doubt as to whether Wm. D. Pittman, the American who was with the Estrada forces in Nicaragua, has been captured by the Madriz army. Several stories, each different from the other, are told, although the messages to Port Limon were handled over wires controlled by Madriz. In official circles it is taken as a toss up.

Refuses Intervention.

MANAGUA, June 6.—President Madriz today said he would not consider the proposal made by provisional President Estrada to have the United States mediate the trouble between the two Nicaraguan factions. "The proposal is identical with that made by Estrada when the outlook for our cause was far darker than now," Madriz said. "I refused it then and, of course, I cannot think of accepting it now."

HOUSE WON'T PAY THEIR AUTO BILLS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—A dead lock developed today between the two branches of congress on the question of having the government pay $2,500 cash for the keep of the automobiles used by Vice President Sherman and Speaker Cannon.

The house, after a lively debate, decided that the vice president and speaker should pay their own automobile expenses, but the senate reinserted the two $2,500 items.

The house refused to accept the amendment. It is the general rule that when an unbreakable deadlock occurs in the house, the branch of congress that passes the objectionable item shall withdraw. Application of the general rule would mean "Uncle Joe" and "Sunny Jim" will have to hire their own chauffeurs.

GREATEST STORY WRITER IS DEAD

NEW YORK, June 6.—The funeral of Wm. Sidney Porter, better known as O. Henry, conceded to be the best short story writer of the present generation, will be held from the Little Church Around the Corner tomorrow morning, and the body will be shipped to his former home at Asheville, N. C., for burial.

Just before he died Porter turned toward the nurse at his bedside and with a whimsical smile said: "Put the pillows up higher; I don't want to go home in the dark."

REULBACH WINS A GAME; TEN TO ONE

WATERBURY, Conn., June 6.—The showing made here yesterday by Ed Reulbach, the Cubs' star twirler, in an exhibition game against the Waterbury team of the Connecticut league, added considerable strength to the bid of the Chicago team for the National league pennant. He allowed eight scattered hits and won his game ten to one.

Reulbach was stricken with diphtheria, from which his baby was suffering, and for a time it was feared the pitcher would die.

BLUE LABELS BEAT
RED SOX, 7 TO 5

In a hotly contested game of baseball the cigar makers' team, "The Blue Labels," defeated the Red Sox of the North side by the score of 7 to 5 in 11 innings.

He was telling a thrilling story out of his wallet of a thousand and one half-breath escapes, and his pretty listener was leaning anxiously toward him, hanging on his every utterance.

"The wolves were upon us," he said, "howling and roaring, as I have so often heard them. We fled for our lives. I don't deny it; but every second we knew the ravenous pack was gaining on us. At last they were so near that we could feel their muzzles against our legs."

"Ah!" gasped out the lady. "How glad you must have been they had their muzzles on."—Ex.

TONIC

Any system that needs a tonic needs also a blood purifier, for it is the weakened, impure condition of the circulation that is responsible for the run-down state of health. The supreme office and duty of the blood is to furnish nourishment to every portion of the body. The circulatory system, magnificent and wonderful in its construction, supplies the means for the distribution of systemic nutriment to every muscle, nerve, bone, gland, sinew and tissue of the body; and just as long as the blood remains pure and rich each of these members are healthy, strong and normal.

We have only to recognize the importance of pure blood in preserving health, to realize the danger of a weakened circulation. The use of a proper tonic when the system is depleted and run-down will often prevent the development of some serious sickness, because weak systems cannot resist disease, while healthy systems are able to ward it off.

Deficient blood nutriment is usually manifested in a general bodily weakness, a tired, worn-out feeling, fickle appetite, poor digestion, etc. Sleep does not sufficiently refresh the body, and the languid feeling frequently makes the ordinary duties of life burdensome.

S. S. S. is Nature's Tonic. It is made entirely of botanical products gathered directly from the heart of Nature's forests. It does not contain a particle of strong, harmful mineral in any form, but is a scientific composition of extracts and juices from herbs, roots and barks. S. S. S. is the greatest of all tonics, because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It is not a nerve stimulant, but a medicine that steadily builds up every portion of the system by cleansing and enriching the blood, and in this way supplying an increased amount of nourishment and strength to every portion of the body. S. S. S. rids the system of that tired, worn-out feeling, quiets the over-strained nerves, makes sleep refreshing, corrects any stomach disturbance, promotes good digestion and adds vigor and vim to the entire system.
